Donald John Trump - MY GENIUS

My Life's Work - what I'm here to do - Gene Key 12

Your life's work lies on the material plane. This does not mean that you will not lead a spiritual life. It means that your great task is to make the spiritual real. Your life can take so many different directions and you can probably feel this. You are here to give expression to the feelings that lie deep within your heart, and you need to find a way to communicate these so that others hear what your heart has to say. At the deepest level, it makes absolutely no difference what you do in life. It only matters that your voice is heard somewhere by someone, in some form. The arts will always have a deep hold on you, and you need them always close at hand in some way as an ongoing reminder of the depth of passion and longing that lies within you. Whatever you do, the only thing that matters is authenticity. You must be authentic, whatever the result.

My Evolution - what I'm here to learn - Gene Key 11

As you discover your Life's Work and put your art out into the world, you may also discover that you are driven by an inner vision. This vision gives you a sense of perspective about what you are doing. Without it you might well flounder and become cut off from those around you. For this reason you must always listen to your dreams, and you must realise that they concern others. Each of your relationships must be brought into balance within you. You cannot simply cut yourself off from your own past and the people in your past. Your life is a constant balancing act between your actual work and the idealistic world that you carry within you. Ultimately, this ideal feeds into everything you do, so you must never compromise it under any circumstances. It is the very source of your strength.

My Radiance - what keeps me healthy - Gene Key 36

Your whole physical being thrives on new experience. This means that you need to remain open to any emotional situations that come your way. Emotions are your lifeblood. If you repress them or shy away from them, or if you allow yourself to be overwhelmed by them, you will damage your nervous system and either become agitated or exhausted. The secret for you is to feel your feelings and learn to channel them rather than control them or simply pour them out on unsuspecting people! If you are not in touch with your feelings, you will actually attract negative energies to you, so you need to learn to trust whatever your body tells you without having to act on it. For you, taking your time to express your feelings clearly is absolutely essential.

My Purpose - what deeply fulfils me - Gene Key 6

You have a hidden mission in the world — to contribute on any level towards making the world a more open and honest place. At a collective level, you are one of the construction workers working on the 'new human'. This new human represents the future potential within every human being. This Life Purpose is an exciting and sometimes challenging assignment for you, because you will often find yourself in areas of deep human conflict. You cannot have a Gift like Diplomacy and not be drawn into the arenas where it is most needed. This will almost certainly entail your personal relationships, which will offer you the opportunity to see your greatest power at work. If you really remember who you are and what peacefulness resides in you, nothing will throw you off course. Your real purpose is to realise this and be an example for others.
